Many appear confused about this, so let me clarify: The current conflict in Palestine is geopolitical, and reflects the consolidation of one of the world's major Poles.

It marks the second stage of the formation of the multi-polar world, after Russia's SMO in February 2022.

Many people tend to focus exclusively on Hamas, and the unfolding news of the situation - as if this is if this reflects the same temporal plane as the strategy being employed.

Make no mistake. This is an unprecedented combined arms operation and nothing in the 21st century comes close to it in the history of the conflict.

The fact that it caught the Israelis by surprise should tell you enough. If it caught the Mossad (one of the world's most powerful intelligence agencies) by surprise, what makes you think any of these idiot rightist grifters know what is yet to come?

This was not some random lashing out by Hamas. All of this was planned, in full coordination with the Axis of Resistance - and we are not even close to witnessing its full scope and scale.

Every possible outcome was taken into consideration. Remember that everytime you hear Zionists talk about the 'big plans' the entity has in store to level Gaza.

They have done that many times, it never worked. Hamas has come out stronger than it ever has. And they also expect whatever the Zionist entity has in store.

Because this isn't just Hamas. This is the entire Axis of Resistance, centered in Iran.

Iran is one of the world's oldest, greatest, and most sophisticated civilizations. It is and has always been an organic civilizational Pole in the region. Before the modern era, the sole two powers of the region were the Ottomans and the Persian Safavids, who competed over it.

Behind this operation is the cunning, strategic genius, and eschatological materialism of the IRGC. And by the latter, I mean to say that they have combined what is a profound universal-regional spiritual vision with the pragmatism, realism, and earthiness of both modern technology and hyper-Clausewitzian irregular warfare techniques.

This war does not have a single location or even a single timeline. The scale at which it is occurring, is not immediately perceptible both in space AND time.

These are the tremors felt by the resurrection of some of the world's most ancient, splendid, and sublime empires. This is the special military operation of the Middle East civilizations.

Likewise this is not just about Israel. It is the New World Order's last outpost in the region. Israel was the Ukraine of the Middle East - a vain, artificial fortress of Western modernity created to suppress the real (and long dormant) powers indigenous to the region.

This is a regional revolution that has the potential to culminate into a global war.

Russia has awakened ancient powers across the world. This is the end of Western 'rules based order.'
